選課須知 1: Course Description

To know what course they offer

127. Performance, Media, and Cultural Theory

Units: 5

Lecture, four hours; discussion, one hour (when scheduled). Requisites: courses 10A, 10B, and 10C, or 11 and 87. Recommended: courses 120, 121. Examination of concepts and modes of performance, culture, and/or media, broadly construed. Evaluation of different modes of inquiry around one or more of these concepts, as well as their intersection, in various intellectual traditions, including fields of cultural studies, performance studies, literary analysis, and film theory. May be repeated for credit with topic or instructor change. P/NP or letter grading.

128. Postcolonial and Transnational Theory

Units: 5

Lecture, four hours; discussion, one hour (when scheduled). Enforced requisites: courses 10A, 10B, 10C. Recommended: courses 130, 131. Exploration of methodological, aesthetic, and theoretical implications of postcolonial and transnational approaches to study of literature and culture. Topics may include theories of subaltern, orientalist, feminist, and/or indigenous representation and histories and may address representational issues of national sovereignty in wake of globalization and neocolonialism. May be repeated for credit with topic or instructor change. P/NP or letter grading.

As a freshmen, I was considering the Chinese language major at UCLA. Even though I never followed through on the idea, her class and teaching style are awesome. I was a freshmen basically competing against upper classmen who had a knowledge in both the language and the course. I came completely out of cold water and did fabulous, I got an A and I was more than thrilled. She is difintely awesome and is concerned with her student's progress. I would recommend her for any class she may teach and she is a must for letters of recommendation. One time when I made a homophobic remark in class, she corrected me. At the time I was closeted, that was one of the most interesting moments in my undergraduate career.

行前準備 2: Money and Medicine

Always bring more rather than less

當地生活 1: Join a Club

Mom! I made some new friends!

當地生活 2: Driver License

No car; no life in LA

Los Angeles has a good bus system, but it covers far too wide an area, and is often plagued by scheduling problems (e.g. you wait for a bus far too long, and then 3 arrive within minutes of each other; and many routes operate only between rush hours). That said, it is clean, much cheaper than most large cities and, if you are patient, can move you through the entire LA basin.

當地生活 3: Expensive Rent

- We only accept ONE girl, no couples, thank you!
- Monthly Rent: $756 not including utility (Special Price $650 for 11/17-12/17)
- Monthly miscellaneous fees are around $45-$60, including LADWP (electricity & trash), renters insurance, internet.
- Bathroom: you have to share with another girl
- No parking, but you can find parking next to the apartment for around $150 a month. or you can post in the community billboard to rent from other tenants in the apartment.
- Furniture: you can have them at a very cheap packaged price, including wardrobe with mirror, twin-size bed frame, twin-size mattress, Ikea adjustable desk and chairs, nightstand with lamp, small wooden drawers, Ikea mirror, 2x3 white bookcase, living room divider 5x5 Ikea KALLAX shelf, floor lamp. I will move out the furniture that you don't need.
- Roommates: Two 28+ young professional girls, very friendly, respectful, and communicative.
- Amenities: Rooftop pool & Gym

If you are interested, you can schedule a tour during weekend, or a online video tour during weekdays. Please DM for details, I will try to respond fast. I lived here for a year but have to move for my new job.
